Reflection & Evaluation

This assignment gave me valuable knowledge on how to create compelling ads that attract an audience's interest. Overall, I learned to conduct research efficiently, ensuring my commercials were based on facts so I could use persuasive language to motivate the audience's engagement. I felt that structuring each commercial with a clear hook, focus, special offer, and call to action made my messaging strong and impactful. Additionally, and after several tries, I found that maintaining an exciting, conversational tone was essential in making the ads sound compelling rather than robotic. I struggled with this at first and feel I could improve this portion of the assignment. Overall, this project helped me practice copywriting and verbal delivery skills critical in marketing and broadcasting.
